

Primo Incontro
Saturday, October 12, 2019

The beautiful Eagleton Institute, Rutgers University

"Speakeasy"

presented by Matilde Fogliani

instructor at MSU's Italian Immersion Summer Program (2017-18)

Activities presented aim to facilitate conversation in the classroom and will include the use of authentic materials such as Italian tv programs and advertising. Material shared with participants will address teaching beginner to advanced levels applicable in middle schools, high schools as well as the college level.

In addition to our main topic, we will have three break-out sessions, by topic for participant collaboration. See the attached agenda for further details.

Primo Incontro will be limited to only 50 participants. Save the date and register today. Please visit www.itanj.org, or email: sengeltem@gmail.com Presenter's Biography: Matilde Fogliani was born and raised in Mestre, Venezia where she attended Ca' Foscari University for her BA and MA degrees in Foreign Languages and Literatures (English and Spanish). She moved to New York City in 2012 for Ph.D. studies at The Graduate Center, CUNY, and is presently a resident of Hoboken, NJ.

Ms. Fogliani is an ABD Ph.D. candidate in Comparative Literature with an Italian Specialization, and she is currently working on her dissertation on feminism and female writings under Fascism. She has presented academic research at symposiums at Rutgers University, Alpha Gamma, and as a fellow at the University of Notre Dame's Irish Seminar 2014.

She has been an adjunct lecturer of Italian language, conversation and literature for seven years, teaching at Fordham University, Pace University, Hunter College, and several colleges in the CUNY system. She is also experienced in secondary school teaching, having earned a NJ Certificate for teaching Italian and Spanish language, an Advanced Placement certification, and certification by Syracuse University Project Advance. Matilde has spent two years as an instructor in Montclair University's Italian Immersion Summer Program (Summer 2017 and Summer 2018) and spent a year teaching Italian language at the high school level.

Directions to the Eagleton Institute of Politics

191 Ryders Lane
New Brunswick, NJ 08901-8557
(848) 932-9384

GPS and Mapquest may locate our address incorrectly. Below are accurate directions to Eagleton from various points.

FROM U.S. ROUTE 1 SOUTHBOUND: Shortly after crossing the Raritan River, you will go under one overpass and pass Sears. BEFORE the next overpass, take the first exit marked Ryders Lane, in the direction of New Brunswick. You will go through one traffic light, following Ryders Lane as it makes a sharp curve to the left; shortly afterward, you will see a sign for Eagleton Institute/Wood Lawn. Turn left into the driveway at the sign. Turn right in front of the building, a large white mansion, for parking.

FROM U.S. ROUTE 1 NORTHBOUND: Shortly beyond the exits for Route 130 and for College Farm Road, take the second Ryders Lane exit, which is marked New Brunswick. Go through the traffic light, following Ryders Lane as it makes a sharp curve to the left; shortly afterward, you will see a sign for Eagleton Institute/Wood Lawn. Turn left into the driveway at the sign.

FROM THE NEW JERSEY TURNPIKE: Take Exit 9 and stay right after the toll booths to get onto Route 18 northbound. After the light at Paulus Blvd, when road divides, stay to the right for local exits. Once in the local lanes, take first exit on left marked "172 - Cook/Douglass." Turn left at the green arrow light onto George Street. Stay in left lane. After the next light, follow road straight ahead and go halfway around the small circle onto Ryders Lane. The sign and driveway for the Eagleton Institute will be directly ahead at the curve in the road. Wood Lawn, a large white mansion, will be up the driveway on the right. Parking is available in front of the building.

FROM THE GARDEN STATE PARKWAY (points north): Take the exit for Route 1 south and follow directions above from Route 1, or take the exit for the New Jersey Turnpike and follow directions above from the Turnpike.

FROM THE GARDEN STATE PARKWAY (coming from the Shore and points south): Take the Parkway to Exit 105 for Route 18 North (towards New Brunswick). Follow Route 18 past the Turnpike. Exit onto Route 1 South (toward Trenton). You will pass Sears and two restaurants. Before the next overpass, take the first Ryders Lane exit (toward New Brunswick). You will go through one traffic light, following Ryders Lane as it makes a sharp curve to the left; shortly afterward, you will see a sign for Eagleton Institute/Wood Lawn. Turn left into the driveway at the sign. Turn right in front of the building, a large white mansion, for parking.

BY TRAIN: New Jersey Transit trains running between Trenton and Penn Station/New York stop at the New Brunswick station at least hourly, with more frequent service during rush hour. Amtrak's Northeast Corridor trains (traveling between Washington and Boston) generally do not stop in New Brunswick, but one can transfer at Trenton (coming from the south) or New York (coming from the north) to a New Jersey Transit local, or take Amtrak to Metropark (Iselin, NJ). Cabs are generally available at both the New Brunswick and Metropark stations. (For schedules, call New Jersey Transit at (800) 772-2222 (from New Jersey) or (973) 762-5100 (from out of state) or visit the New Jersey Transit web site here.)
